Veolia shareholder's rights in Suez fully confirmed

Today's decision of the Judicial Court of Nanterre supersedes all previous decisions relating to the information-consultation of Suez employees. It confirms that Veolia has not breached any obligation towards Suez employees. As a result, Veolia immediately recovers all of its shareholder rights.

Veolia remains available to discuss with Suez employees on its merger project.

Veolia confirms its determination to complete the creation of a world champion in ecological transformation.
